ON THE COVER - DAY OLD PONY
Photos taken last Tuesday show Mattapoisett resident of 1 day. The little colt, born Monday on Selectman John Field's farm, finds the town much to her liking. Full of pep since birth the colt spent day number 1 running happily in the pasture with her mother. As these photos were taken she had just completed a nap and was raring to go once more.

MATTAPOISETT BORROWS $100,000.00

Mattapoisett Treasurer Allen Sherman, with the approval of the Board of Selectmen, will borrow $100,000.00 from the low bidder - National Shawmut Bank of Boston at .232% interest. The note to expire November 30, 1967. It is necessary to borrow this amount to meet the town's second quarter payment of $75,558.19 to Old Rochester Regional High School which is Mattapoisett's expense per quarter at present.

TAX RATE SET IN MATTAPOISETT

The following is a statement from the Board of Assessors of Mattapoisett concerning the tax rate for 1967.

"Mattapoisett's tax rate for 1967 as set by the board of Assessors at $32.30 per thousand, has been approved by the State tax department. The increase of $2.00 over the 1966 rate of $30.30 is necessary to take care of the increased costs of Town, County and State budgets for 1967. The town budget for 1967 is $1,285,557.86. The largest increase is for school, $54,593.89 over 1966. County tax is increased sons and veterans larger abatements, and with the increases of town appropriations, all add up to $115,014.56 more funds to be raised in 1967 than in 1966. Without the sales tax Mattapoisett would have had a rate of $34.60 per thousand instead of $32.30. It seems quite apparent that the State Legislature, through granting exemptions, fail to realize the tremendous burden placed upon the taxpayers of the cities and towns. They vote these tax exemptions but fail to provide the cities and towns with necessary revenue to meet their costs."

TUESDAY NIGHT BAND CONCERTS SET

Mattapoisett Selectmen met with Paul Alves, chairman of the Mattapoisett Community Band, and John Pandolfi, conductor, on the change of playing days for the Band. Mr. Alves explained that the Tuesday date will enable the band to obtain the best musicians. Selectmen agreed to the change and requested that when it does rain that programs be held the following Sunday night to make it up. They hope that this arrangement will be followed since the town does appropriate money towards these concerts.

Mr. Pandolfi and Mr. Alves both expressed a hope that the town will consider providing a band shell to both protect the musicians from the fog and moisture, and to give the music a sounding board which would make the concerts more enjoyable. They explained that often in

Zoning Board

STATEMENT BY ZONING BOARD OF MATT.

The following is a statement by the Mattapoisett Zoning Board:

"The Special Committee on Zoning was appointed by the Mattapoisett Board of Selectmen on July 5, 1965, composed of seven members. It organized immediately and held weekly meetings, with but two or three exceptions, into January, 1966. During this period a meeting for the purpose of reporting progress was held with the Selectmen and Planning Board. In April of 1966 a proposed Zoning By-Law, with an accompanying Zoning Map, was presented to the above two Boards. At a meeting with the Planning Board and Selectmen in June, 1966, the proposed Zoning By-Law was thoroughly discussed. It was decided that the Planning Board would study proposals of the Special Committee on Zoning and meet with them at an early date, which was tentatively set for August. This was later changed by the Planning Board to October.

"At the joint meeting in October the proposed by-law was discussed and various changes were suggested by the Planning Board. No further meetings of the two boards were held, but on March 2, 1967 the Special Committee received from the Planning Board a proposed Zoning By-Law drawn up by them. This proposal included many of the provisions in the original Planning Board's proposed Zoning By-Law and some new provisions. After studying this draft the Special Committee on Zoning prepared a reply setting forth their agreements and disagreements. Before it was possible to transmit this to the Planning Board the Special Committee and the Planning Board were requested to meet with the Selectmen. At this meeting it was mutually agreed that the best way to expedite matters would be for the Selectmen to appoint a Zoning Board under General Laws Chapter 40A, Section 6. This provides that the Zoning Board shall present the proposed Zoning By-Law directly to the Town, rather than through the Planning Board. Thereupon, the Selectmen appointed the members of the Special Committee on Zoning to the Zoning Board.

"The Zoning Board shortly thereafter prepared a new zoning by-law based upon the proposal of April, 1966, suggestions of the Planning Board, their new proposed zoning by-law and changes made by the Zoning Board itself. Mr. Arthur C. Thompson, C.E., is preparing a new zoning map and the Board has sent the new proposed by-law and sketch map to Mr. Perry, the Town Counsel, for a thorough legal check. It is hoped to publish a copy of the proposed by-law and map in the Presto Press and to have at least two preliminary public hearings during the summer, so that the voters may become familiar with the provisions of the proposed by-law and make suggestions for changes if they so desire. But, whether one attends the preliminary hearings or not, the Zoning Board hopes that anyone who has any suggestions or objections will inform the Board or any member thereof in writing. The Board will give careful consideration to all suggestions and incorporate any which will, in its opinion, improve the proposed by-law. The exact dates for the preliminary hearings cannot be determined until the Board hears from Mr. Perry and Mr. Thompson.

"It is planned to have the statutory hearing and the Special Town Meeting before the middle of September."

Authors Sea Adventures

MATTAPOISETT RESIDENT CO-AUTHORS BOOK

The Rand McNally book, Voyager Beware, co-authored by Commander Adrian L. Lonsdale of Pine Island Road, Mattapoisett, relates episodes of Coast Guardsmen against the sea. Hurricane winds whip across Cape Cod as the Coast Guard cutter General Greene attempts to rescue the crew of a rudderless tug off Sandwich in Cape Cod Bay. Tension mounts when the Coast Guard realizes they have two broken tankers, the Pendleton and Fort Mercer, with more than 80 men facing death in a full gale off Chatham.

The sea is a cruel adversary and Voyager Beware is about man's response to its danger and the thin line between courage and cowardice. It is recommended for those who like tension-charged sea thrillers.

COURAGE AND COWARDICE AT SEA

The last two men aboard the Hartzell were finally hauled ashore in the life car, but Lydia Dale was not with them. All day long, through winds of gale force with squalls of hail, snow and rain, 50 men commanded by Captain Thomas E. Mathews had fought to save the crew of the ship which had run aground 300 yards off the shore of Lake Michigan.

Mathews, commander of a nearby lifesaving station, and his men employed their lifesaving techniques to rescue the eight-member crew who, with the Hartzell's decks awash, had climbed into the ship's icy rigging to avoid being washed overboard. All the men were rescued, but Lydia Daley, the ship's cook and the only woman aboard, had been abandoned by the crewmen. They said she had frozen to death. Before Mathews could risk sending a man out to the ship to bring her in, the mast gave way and the rigging went with it.

Several days later, Lydia Dale's body was washed ashore and, after an inquest, the coroner gave his verdict--'Death by drowning'. "What is your verdict?" ask the authors of Voyager Beware (Rand McNally).

Many more true adventures of the Coast Guard's heroic rescues at sea--illustrated with diagrams and photos of actual rescues--are told in this book by authors H. R. Kaplan and Lieutenant Commander Adrian L. Lonsdale. Through them all runs an underlying theme of man's response to danger--sometimes courageous, sometimes not.

Beginning in the late 1800's and continuing through 1964, Voyager Beware relates episodes of men against the sea that combine an historical account of the progress of the Coast Guard's lifesaving techniques with the tension-charged excitement of an old-fashioned sea thriller--the Atlantic's salt spray is whipped up by hurricane winds as the U. S. Coast Guard cutter General Greene from Gloucester, Mass. maneuvers to effect the rescue of a crew aboard a rudderless tug off Sandwich in Cape Cod Bay. Tension mounts in the Pacific aboard the cutter Pontchartrain as the crew prepares to rescue the passengers of a disabled airplane about to ditch at sea . . . with the Italian cargo ship rapidly taking on water, the frustration of Abel Belanga, keeper of a lifeboat station, heightens as he attempts to rescue the non-English speaking, superstitious seamen who won't cooperate with him.

In his foreword to Voyager, Beware, Admiral E. J. Roland, U. S. Coast Guard Commandant, says, "As you will learn in these stories, the sea is a cruel adversary, and we do not always win. But in every case we do our best."

For several years, H. R. Kaplan had been a lawyer and a high school teacher, but, in his current occupation of writing for the Public Information Division of the Coast Guard, he has been re-united with his first two loves -- writing and the sea. He has written articles for several magazines, among them Parade, Navy Times, U. S. Naval Institute Proceedings, Motorboating and U. S. Lady.

Lieutenant Commander Adrian L. Lonsdale represents the third generation of Lonsdales who have served in the U. S. Coast Guard. He graduated from the U. S. Coast Guard Academy in 1950, and since that time, has fulfilled several tours of duty both in the Atlantic and the Pacific, including six patrols to the Far East in support of Korean operations. With Kaplan, Lonsdale has co-authored several professional articles and stories and is currently commanding officer of the Coast Guard Cutter Vigilant at New Bedford, Mass.

JUNIOR GRANGE MEETING

Mattapoisett Junior Grange held its bi-monthly meeting last Friday night with the worthy master, Mark Harris presiding.

Honored guests were Rebecca Day, representing Sippican Pomona; Robert Ouellette, master of Rochester Grange; and Mrs. Edna Day, a member of the State Home and Community Service committee. The centennial candle was on the lecturer's station.

Committee chairmen reported on agriculture, conservation and sunshine work. Mary Alcobia, Home and Community Service chairman, reported on sending a birthday card to a shut-in in May and will send one for June 15th. This is a special project she is including with her work.

Deborah Znotin was voted on and was made a member of the Junior Grange.

The lecturer, Joseph Alves, opened his program with a march. He announced the winners in the cooking contest that had been judged by Mrs. Velma Vinal of Middleboro.

There was a fine display of goodies made by the Juniors. Those receiving ribbons and prizes were: Mark Harris, first for brownies; Joseph Alves, first for cup cakes; Ann Carson, second for cup cakes; Robert Burbank, first for cookies; Michael Mulvihill, second for cookies; Harlene Fearing and Mary Beth Breton, honorable mention.

The cup cakes, cookies and brownies were used for refreshments with punch.

Three cakes made by Mark Harris, Mark Breton and Joseph Carson were auctioned off by the boys to help defray the expenses.

The next meeting, June 23rd, will be election of officers. Honored guests spoke briefly. Rebecca Day, representative from Pomona, announced an important activity for the Juniors of the Sippican Pomona, the annual Field Day to be held July 30th at Washburn Park in Marion, starting at 1 P.M.

The Juniors usually attend this event and return with many awards. The large rosette award of 1966 was brought back by Mark Breton as a winner in the sports contests.

Worthy Master Ouellette announced a food sale July 29th in Rochester Grange Hall.

STUDENTS ACCEPTED AT COLLEGES

MOSQUITO SPRAY - END OF JUNE

Mosquitoes, which are large and numerous this year because of the abundance of breeding pools caused by the wet May, will be sprayed at the end of the month according to the Selectmen's office, Mattapoisett. Because a new generation of the pests will be hatched by that time, a spraying then will get that batch too. In the meantime, spot spraying is being used to eliminate worst areas of Mattapoisett.

COURSE IN DATA PROCESSING

A three-week introductory course in data processing, designed especially for area high school students, will begin August 14th at the Rodman Job Corps Center.

Center Director Theodore E. Nelson said the program was developed in cooperation with area school superintendents "in an effort to make some of the unique facilities at the Rodman Center available to students of greater New Bedford."

The program, called "The World of Computers," is the second of its kind to be held at the Center. The first was attended by twenty-nine students from the New Bedford area last summer.

"I hope the program will help students gain a better understanding of computers and of the many job opportunities growing out of the development of modern information handling systems," Mr. Nelson said.

The program is free of charge and is limited to students who are about to begin their senior year. The class will meet at Rodman for four hours a day, five days a week. The course work will cover the following areas:

1. History and development of data processing.
2. Punch card accounting methods.
3. Computer systems, components and programming.
4. A class project in programming.

The program was planned by R. Ward Abronski, deputy director of instruction and former manager of the Special African Education Project of the International Business Machines Corporation.
